

WEEKEND WARRIORS

For most of us, weekends are a time to kick back and relax. A chance to spend time with family and friends. But you can bet there's a team from Yaskawa working that same weekend to make sure your Monday is a little easier.

For example, we recently got a weekend call from Aida America, Inc. explaining that one of their presses was down. We immediately sent our crew to the plant to address the problem, a failed legacy inverter. Within five hours, we got them a new replacement drive. They were up and running again in no time.

That's Yaskawa putting customers first. Making it personal. 365 days. 24 hours. Every day.
